

157
Cambridge, March 20, 1793.

The Sieur Rea,

IMPRESSED with the highest sense of gratitude, for the favours he has received from the University and Town of Cambridge, thinks it his duty to shew every acknowledgement; and hopes it will not be considered improper, at the present crisis, when he declares his intention of performing his Philosophical, Mechanical, and Mathematical Amusements, this present Wednesday Evening, at the Black Bear, for the Sole Benefit of the Widows and Children of such Soldiers and Sailors who may die or be killed, in his Majesty's service, during the War.

The Doors will be opened at 7 o'Clock, and begin precisely at half after 7.

Tickets to be had of Sieur Rea, at the Red Bull, at the Black Bear, and at the Printing Office, Corner of Green-street, at Two Shillings each.—Back Seats 1s.

** The Performance will conclude by Nine o'Clock

A Fire in the Room.----Music will attend.